FACTORY HANDS RECEIVE $350,000

Yonkers. June 16.—Three hundred and fifty employes of the Smith Car-bet Works received checks yesterday or $1,000 each, devised to them in the will of the late Mrs. Eva Smith Cochan, daughter of the carpet mill found-ran, daughter of the carpet mill founder.

Mrs. Cochran, whose son is now the head of the works, died on February 3 last. She left an estate of over 48.-600,000, and the will provided that all employes who at the time of her death had been in the employ of the carpet company for twenty years should each receive $1,000.

Since Mrs. Cochran's death lists have been under preparation in the four different shops. Yesterday Alexander Smith Cochran's announced that the money was to be divided, but the lists were held in strict secrecy and those receiving the money were pledged not to speak. It is learned, however, that many of the recipients of the checks are women employes.

As was previously announced, the work in the several rooms correlated important events in the history of our own country, from the Pre-Columbian period until the present epoch. In interesting and instructive lessons, illustrative of the customs and perpetrations of ancestors remote and proximate the nutil-teachers demonstrated mate, the pupil-teachers demonstrated the methods and curriculum of the training school, in conjunction with training school, in conjunction with their personal system of imparting knowledge. The blackboard decorations were very creditably executed.

The Pre-Columbian era, embracing studies of the Eskimos and the Cliff Dwellers, was exemplified in Rooms 1 and 2. The period of discovery, Columbus and DeSoto, was treated in Rooms 3 and 4. Following these in rotation were lessons on the epoch of exploration, the era of settlement, the Colonial and the pioneer periods.

were lessons on the epoch of exploration, the era of settlement, the Colonial and the pioneer periods.

Supplementary to the training department, the grades in charge of regular teachers, Miss Anderson, Miss Sadler, Miss Foley and Miss Clark, handled the Revolutionary and the Constitutional chronology and the events of the twentieth century. The musical features of the programs proved exceptionally enjoyable, especially in the grades where two-part and trio work is conducted.

The juveniles received adequate commendation from visitors who inspected the drawing and writing papers displayed in the corridors. It was observed that many of the specimens of pencil and color work were selected from lessons given when the school lacked an art supervisor, a fact which proclaimed the ability of the young teachers in managing a special line.

The charts in the Normal room, while attractive and ornate, had been prepared by the members of both Junior and Senior classes solely from the standpoint of utility. They were illustrative of the sciences taught in the several departments, and will be illustrative of the sciences taught in the several departments, and will be used by the teachers in charge during ing year.

FAIRFIELD COUNTY

ISSUE OF BONDS

At a Fairfield county meeting yesterday, resolutions were passed authorities the recombing year.

Prominent in the exhibit and remarkable for the display of unusual talent, are the drawings of Miss Sadle Rosenthal, a member of the Junior class. Should Miss Rosenthal ever desire to abandon the teachers' profession for the field of art, a successful future doubtless awaits her.

The gift of the graduating young ladies, a relief from "The Singing Boys," ornamented the wall of the Normal room during the reception. In Room 14, a large picture of Sir Galahad constituted the bequest of the eighth grade pupils preparing for the High School.

In a recherche little booth inclosed with ferns, daisies and mountain laurel, fruitade was dispensed to festive patrons by Miss Lina Newell and Miss Sadle Rosenthal. A visit to the bower was apparently the concluding observance of the guests of the occasion.

THE BOSTON SHOE STORE GOING OUT OF BUSINESS.

iHolbrook & McNamara having been in the shoe business in Bridgeport for the past fourteen years, are go-ing to retire and Saturday night they close the store permanently. In order to dispose of our stock as much as possible before selling it in bulk, we shall offer for the last three days of this week some of the greatest shoe values that were ever quoted at this old store. Of course we do not expect to sell every pair before closing time Saturday. But we do want to dispose of all we possibly can. With this end in view we are going to sell every pair of hoes regardless of former selling proce or cost. We will not mention any prices for we have hardly the time and besides it would take up too much space. Safe to say that you will find on coming to our store this week Thursday, Friday and Saturday the greatest shoe bargains you ever heard of, or have run across in many a day. Do not delay but come as soon as you possibly can for we can give you better service on Thursday or Friday than we can Saturday. Remember Saturday night at 11:30 we close the store for good. During the past few days the resilents of Stratford and the eastern only try it once. section of this city have been annoyed by a peculiar odor from the public drinking water. Complaints have about the dangers which lurked in the water. The matter was brought to the attention of the Bridgeport Hydraulic Company today and a statement was given out by an official of the company which will be welcomed by many whose fears have been unnecessarily aroused.

He said: "We have been enjoying such immunity from compaints in re-

The condition, however, is quite unavoidable and we are bending every effort to right it. Hartford, South Norwalk and other cities are having the same trouble and perhaps even worse than that experienced here. Let me say, however, for the benefit of those served from the particular supply of water affected that there is absolutely no danger attending the condition of the water. Our own chemist makes analyses of the water every day and since the trouble has arisen, this precaution has been further pursued through the State chemist.

"The trouble has been caused by a growth of algae in Beaver Dam reservoir which furnishes water to Stratford and East Bridgeport. Algae is a microscopic vegetable growth which matures rapidly and during this process throws off an oil which permeates the water and gives it what is meates the water and gives it what is termed by the consumer as a "mouldy" odor. Its presence is due largely to the unusually long period of wet weather and humid atmosphere. Already the efforts towards its elimination in the reservoir have been responded to and the conditions are greatly improved. The particular form of algae, which is causing the trouble in Bridgeport, is known as the "asterionella" and when viewed through a microscope with a magnification of 300
